

TARETH

'Soul Harmony' Winter Gathering

7th to the 9th December
Glastonbury

10:30am Friday to 4.30pm Sunday

- Working with the subtle meridians of the body to harmonize them with your Soul Light
- Connecting to your highest awareness
- Clearing patterns within that help you to become a clearer channel of divine love and guidance

We will work with Shamanic rhythms, deep breath work and have times to bathe in the song of Crystal Bowls combined with the manifested sounds from sacred sites. This will be a beautiful experience of releasing & letting go of any tensions, whilst being in touch with divine love from light beings to empower your strengths & gifts.

This is also a time of healing - helping each other and sending this light out

You will have techniques to use in your life to discover what is true. Some of the things in your thoughts that hurt you can be transformed giving you less stress, fear and a clearer mind & more peace within. This will give you a deeper contact with your soul guidance to help others as well.

On Friday evening Tareth will hold a beautiful Blessing of the Source where there is the possibility of him manifesting perfumed oil to show you the reality of the spiritual world and that you are never alone. This is a sacred space where everybody receives divine healing.

'Saturday evening will be our usual celebration of live music and other entertainment'
